

2014 Albariño, Don Miguel Vineyard

Estate Grown, Estate Bottled

Why Albariño?

Albariño has been known to produce outstanding wines in the cool, rainy climate of Galicia, in North West Spain. We first planted it in our Sonoma Coast vineyard, but that proved too cold for ripening even a cool-climate variety like this. After four years, we gave up and grafted the budwood from those vines onto our slightly warmer Russian River Valley estate. We are very excited that it seems to be thriving in the Don Miguel Vineyard!

The Organic Don Miguel Vineyard

Named after the late patriarch of the Torres family, this organic vineyard is located in the Green Valley — the coolest, foggiest region of the Russian River Valley, only ten miles from the Pacific. It is trained in a cordon style with alternating spurs (we call them crocodile teeth), which adds width to the fruit zone and provides optimum air flow and light quality.

The Vinification

The grapes were harvested September 7, then gently whole-cluster pressed and fermented in stainless steel. After the primary fermentation, the wine went 100% through malolactic and was bottled in April 2015.

Tasting Notes

Our fifth vintage of 100% Albariño shows the distinctive, clean aromas of Granny Smith apple, white peach and Asian pear, with light floral touches of jasmine and a minerality reminiscent of wet stones. The palate is rich, with bright acidity that follows through with a refreshing and crisp finish. I would recommend serving it at 45°- 48° F with raw or grilled seafood (it's a classic with oysters and clams), smoked salmon, sushi and Asian cuisine — and for sure, with tapas!
